

Quick Guide: Ordering BreastScreen NSW Resources

What's changed?

- The BreastScreen NSW Resources pages has been updated.
- The available printed resources have not changed and remain free of charge.
- The process for ordering printed resources has changed.
- An account is required to manage orders via the updated website ordering system.

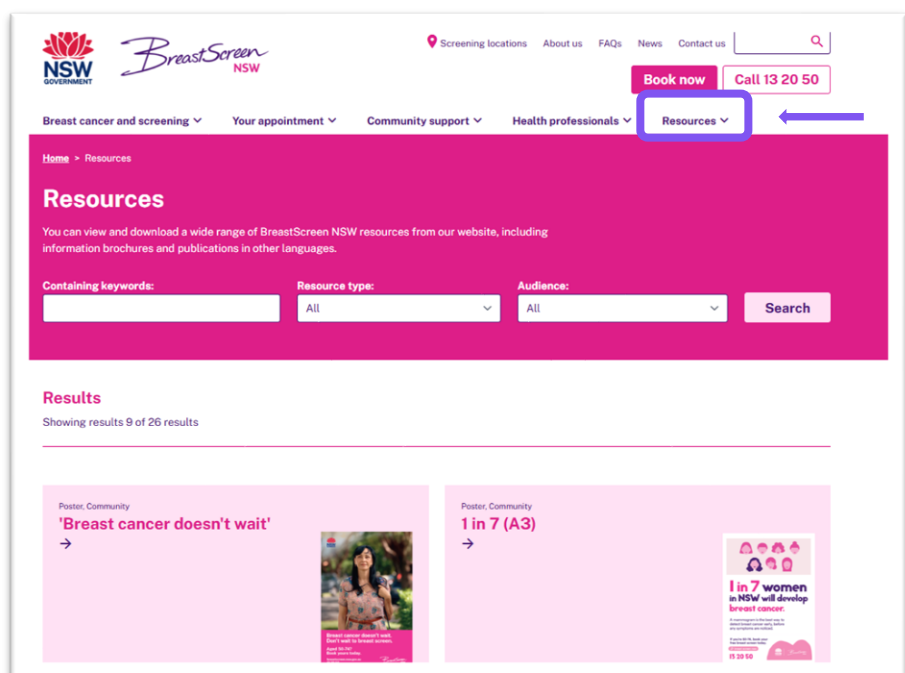

The Resources page on the BreastScreen NSW website has recently been updated, including changes to the way printed resources are ordered.

While the range of resources available for print remains the same, the ordering process has been updated to improve consistency and streamline requests.

Please follow the instructions outlined below when ordering printed resources via the website.

How to order printed resources

1. Go to the Resources page on the BreastScreen NSW website

The screenshot shows the BreastScreen NSW website's Resources page. At the top, there is a navigation bar with the NSW Government and BreastScreen NSW logos, a search bar, and links for Screening locations, About us, FAQs, News, and Contact us. Below the navigation bar, there are buttons for 'Book now' and 'Call 13 20 50'. A dropdown menu is open, showing 'Resources' selected. The main content area has a pink header with 'Resources' and a sub-header 'You can view and download a wide range of BreastScreen NSW resources from our website, including information brochures and publications in other languages.' Below this is a search form with fields for 'Containing keywords:', 'Resource type:' (set to 'All'), and 'Audience:' (set to 'All'), and a 'Search' button. The results section shows 'Showing results 9 of 26 results' and two resource cards. The first card is titled 'Breast cancer doesn't wait' and the second is titled '1 in 7 (A3)'. Both cards have a right-pointing arrow and a thumbnail image.

2. Scroll down to the Printed resources section

Printed resources

Health professionals can order multiple printed resources for postal delivery to workplaces, health practices and community organisations.

- Review your items in the shopping cart, then select Checkout.

NOTE: Please review the quantities per pack, as these vary between resources.

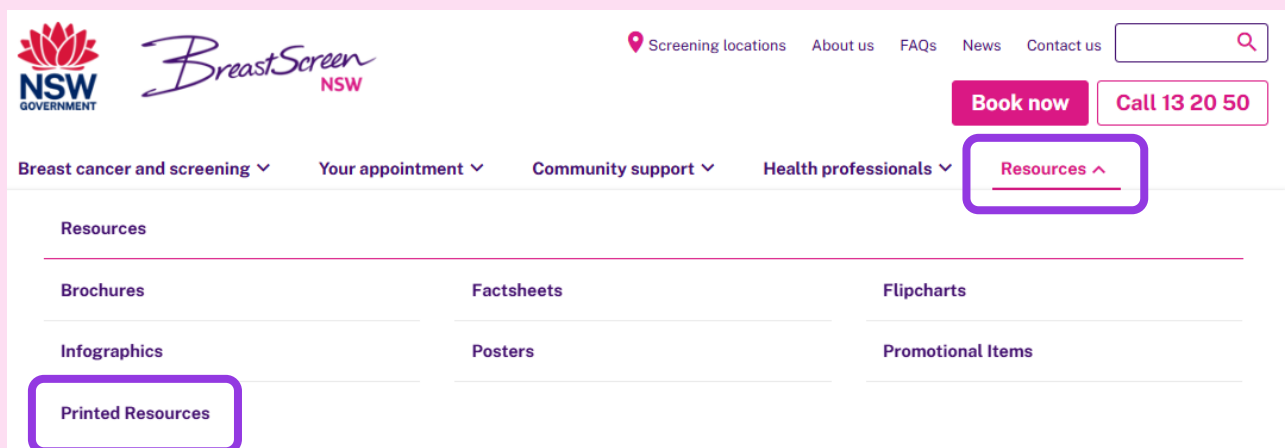

8. Log in to your account or follow the on-screen instructions to create an account.
9. Complete all required fields to ensure your order can be successfully processed, then submit your request.
10. A confirmation email will be sent to your nominated email address.
11. Once your order has been submitted, you can view the status of your request via Order History in your account

Alternative Access

The Printed resources portal can also be accessed via the drop-down menu under Resources.

The screenshot shows the top navigation bar of the BreastScreen NSW website. On the left, there are the NSW Government and BreastScreen NSW logos. On the right, there are links for "Screening locations", "About us", "FAQs", "News", and "Contact us", along with a search icon. Below these links, there are two buttons: "Book now" and "Call 13 20 50". A navigation menu is displayed below the buttons, with "Resources" highlighted in a purple box. The "Resources" menu is expanded, showing a grid of resource categories: "Resources", "Brochures", "Factsheets", "Flipcharts", "Infographics", "Posters", and "Promotional Items". The "Printed Resources" link is highlighted in a purple box.

Then resume at step 3 above.

Important things to note

- Only selected BSNSW resources are available for print ordering.
- Quantities per pack may vary per resource.
- Incomplete order details may delay processing.
- Most resources will continue to be available for download.
